MEET JOHN ISAAC DANIEL

John Isaac was ensisted on a plantation owned by Thomas Daniel (1762-1854) Alderman, Heyper and Merchanz Vensuer of Bristal There are numerous mouseness to "Thomas Daniel and his formly in Final Cathedral including the West Rose stained glass window. Under the Abdition of Silvery Act gassed by the Bristal Government in 1833, Thomas and his insofter plan resolution over 6130000 (millions in today's manay) in comparestion swards for at least 4.424 entitwed people.

The living descendants of John Isasc are campaigning for a monument, to commemorate these lives and all the lives of the enslaved people quantified in the British registers held in the National Archives.

These 760,000 people were the sole survivors of this brutal trade. The lack of a National monument to the victims and survivors is a human stain on modern Britain.

We share in a common view that slavery was a crime against humanity and we are working in partnership with Gioria Daniel and the descendants of john lists to asknowledge the lists of these mers women and children, the brutality they experienced and the legacy of racism we are left with today.

MEET THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN ISAAC DANIEL

With the Ining and recent deteendaries of John haas who was enslaved on a plantation in Barkadas owined by Thomas and John Daviel have asked Bristel Cathedral to allow us to erect a monument to honour John base adregoist the are listed. Add enslaved African Cathebra people owned by dease men. Between 1834 and 1836; Thomas David and his brother John were averded £130,000 (million in todays money) in compensation for the lass of "dease property" under the parliamentary Abalition of Sperry Act of 1823.

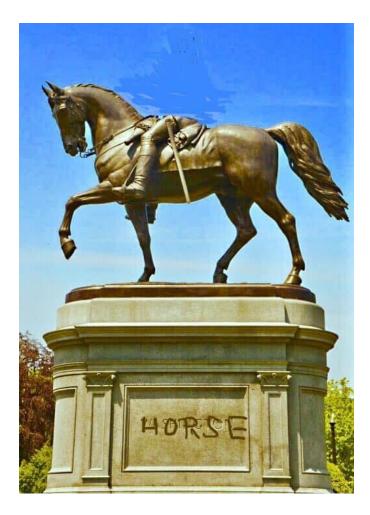

Thomas Daniel & Sons enriched themselves and their descendants through this immoral trade. Living this wealth, prestige and influence, their children, were able to immortains them in Bristol Cathedral by naising memorials and the significant West Rose window to their memory.

It is right and fitting that the direct descendants of the ensiteed, solvocate for the universe of our ancestors and the 740,000 sole survivors of this brucal and as yet unatoned crime against humanity.

It Isn't an Easy Time to Be a British Muslim. Cricket Helps.

The career of Moeen Ali, a player on England's national cricket team, shows us how Britain thrives when institutions accommodate the religious and cultural needs of minorities.

The threat of anti-Muslim bigotry in Britain has been growing, and some politicians from the governing Conservative Party have been encouraging it.

In a newspaper column in August, Boris Johnson, the former Conservative foreign secretary — who is chummy with Steve Bannon and fancies himself an upper-class English version of President Trump compared Muslim women who wear face veils to "bank robbers" and "letter boxes."

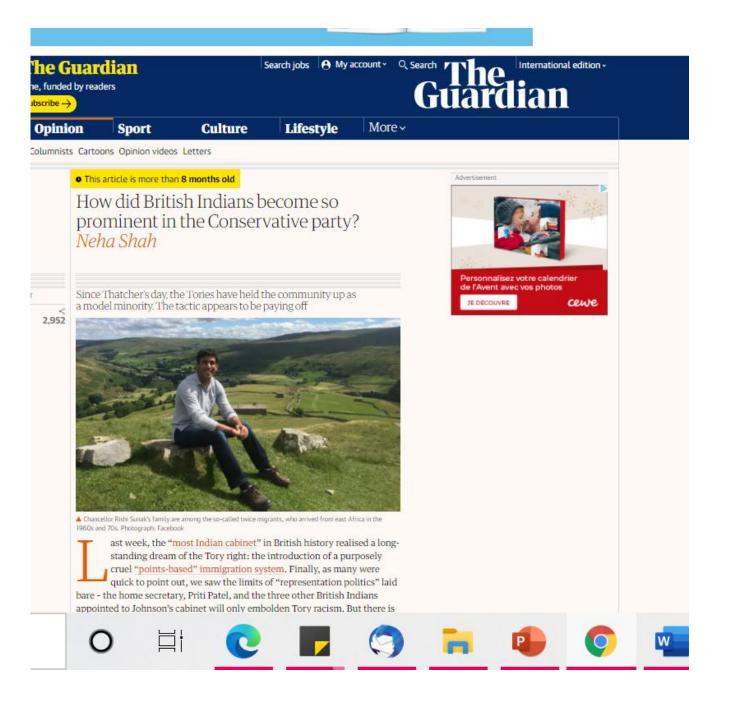

Shaun Bailey, a politician from the Conservative Party, who has been chosen as its candidate for London's mayoral election, took 13 years to offer a conditional apology for writing in a 2005 pamphlet that the effect of celebrating Muslim and Hindu festivals is to "rob Britain of its community" without which "we slip into a crime-riddled cesspool."

In September, in what police are investigating as hate crime, a car ran over pedestrians outside an Islamic center in Cricklewood, a northwest London neighborhood, injuring two people. A report in July by Tell MAMA, a group that monitors anti-Muslim activity, revealed a 26 percent increase in Islamophobic attacks in 2017. The victims were mostly Muslim

What is multiculturalism?

• "... multiculturalism in the modern world involves on the one hand the acceptance of a single culture and a single set of individual rights governing the public domain and a variety of folk cultures in the private domestic and communal domains."

(John Rex (2001) "The concept of a multicultural society" in Guibernau, Montserrat and Rex, John (eds.): The Ethnicity reader, Nationalism, Multiculturalism and Migration, Cambridge, UK: Polity Press, p. 210 Kenan Malik:

"the idea of a plural or multicultural society is (...) a deeply ambiguous one... [the concept of multiculturalism] overestimates the homogeneity and autonomy of the various ethnic groups and underestimates the degree to which all groups are reciprocally implicated in the creation of cultural forms within a common framework (...)."
