What is multiculturalism?

- “... multiculturalism in the modern world involves on the one hand the acceptance of a single culture and a single set of individual rights governing the public domain and a variety of folk cultures in the private domestic and communal domains.”

(John Rex (2001) “The concept of a multicultural society“ in Guibernau, Montserrat and Rex, John (eds.): The Ethnicity reader, Nationalism, Multiculturalism and Migration, Cambridge, UK: Polity Press, p. 210

Kenan Malik:

“the idea of a plural or multicultural society is (...) a deeply ambiguous one... [the concept of multiculturalism] overestimates the homogeneity and autonomy of the various ethnic groups and underestimates the degree to which all groups are reciprocally implicated in the creation of cultural forms within a common framework (...).”

THOUSANDS MARCHED TO THE BURNING OF THE BNP FLAG IN MANCHESTER, WITH ANTI-FASCISTS OUTNUMBERING FAR-RIGHT THUGS 3:1

Anti-fascist groups of all persuasions and political affiliations gathered in Manchester on Saturday to burn the flag of the British National Party (BNP) and to demand the party's banishment from British politics.

The BNP, which was founded in 1982 by a man who died in a car crash in 1987, is a far-right party that has become a major force in British politics since 2001.

The Manchester rally was held in the city centre and was attended by thousands of people. The anti-fascists, who were outnumbered 3:1 by the far-right thugs, managed to burn the BNP flag and to demand its banishment from British politics.
